Dr. Felicia LaBoy is a transformational leadership coach, reinvention strategist, and trusted advisor to leaders and organizations seeking measurable success and lasting change. With nearly four decades of experience across business, academia, and urban ministry, Dr. LaBoy specializes in organizational transformation from the inside out, empowering individuals and institutions to unlock their potential, cultivate innovative leadership, and amplify impact and profitability. She is commonly referred to as one who moves “from the seminary to the street, from the pulpit to the pavement.”

At the heart of Dr. LaBoy's work is her Raising and Rising framework©—a faith-rooted, justice-centered approach that equips leaders to transform obstacles into opportunities, align operations with their core mission, and create sustainable impact. As Lead Coach and Managing Partner of The Orchestrated Effect, LLC, she partners with churches, nonprofits, businesses, and educational institutions to develop strategic partnerships, leverage untapped assets, and implement innovative solutions that foster resilience and amplify community impact while honoring the soul of the organization. Whether in boardrooms or sanctuaries, her work empowers values-driven leaders to inspire teams, achieve measurable results, and build organizations where profitability and purpose, equity and excellence, and mission and marketplace walk hand in hand.

Dr. LaBoy's expertise extends to her role as Lead Pastor and Life Coach at First United Methodist Church in Elgin, IL, where she has led transformative initiatives expanding the church's mission while strengthening community engagement and financial stability. Her leadership has modernized infrastructure, established strategic partnerships, and positioned the church as a model for innovation and impact, especially in the areas of homelessness, racial equity and economic growth.

A former Associate Dean, Dr. LaBoy is also a faculty member in the Doctor of Ministry program at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary, focusing primarily in the Strategic Black Church Leadership and Leadership for Social Transformation programs where she mentors emerging leaders to drive transformation in their organizations and communities. She holds a Ph.D. and M.Div. from Garrett-Evangelical, an MBA from Duke University, and certifications from the International Coaching Federation and the Institute for Professional Excellence in Coaching.

A sought-after speaker and accomplished author, Dr. LaBoy has written several articles and the books: Table Matters: The Sacraments, Evangelism, and Social Justice, Prophets to the Nations: Black Methodism and America's Quest for Racial Justice, and Unstuck: 8 Strategies You Can Take Right Now to Possess Your Promise. Her forthcoming book, Hidden in Plain Sight: Leadership Lessons from 40 Women in the Bible, highlights her passion for connecting leadership and faith to inspire bold, transformative action.

Dr. LaBoy lives in Elgin, Illinois, with her husband, Adrian. Together, they are proud parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents to three children, eleven grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

Ignite Innovation. Inspire Impact.
